

HitBTC

Bitcoin exchange, HitBTC, has suddenly swept onto the scene but plans to stay for a long time. HitBTC will provide all necessary functions and options that both experienced professional traders and beginners value on the existing platforms. The user-friendly interface will be appreciated by both parties – an optimized and efficient routine of registration, and the use and withdrawal of funds are key factors. One of our trusty developers assures users: “The service will be equipped with a very comfortable terminal, taking in account the positive and negative aspects of the existing professional trading terminals.”

The service also offers advanced features:

- WebSocket subscription for quotes and trades
- Asynchronous WebSocket-based trading API
- FOK and IOC orders
- User-friendly interface created in collaboration with professional, experienced traders

The solution was developed based on the modern technologies and best-practices, and the technical implementation will provide low latency and high performance from the launching day. The presence of lags and other experienced faults has been researched and fully excluded.

The trade is going to be open for three pairs initially – BTC/USD, BTC/EUR, USD/EUR. The minimal step of price is 0.01, the minimal lot – 0.01 BTC. Long-time customers with big volumes will be offered special conditions, as every user will be precious and important to us here at HitBTC.
